SYDNEY SAYS...

Welcome to Sydney City.

You've known us previously as Hakoah and Eastern Suburbs-Hakoah.

Our new name and colours will bring closer ties with the great city we represent, but it will not alter the club's or the team's determination to play skilled, attacking soccer, nor our purpose once again to carry off honours in the Philips League.

We are please and proud today to have as guest of honour Alderman Nelson Mears, the Lord Mayor of Sydney.

He and his aldermen have already formally welcomed us as the city's own team in an official ceremony at the Town Hall.

Now he will "join the club" by kicking off our match with Adelaide City.

This club has a proud tradition built up over the 23 years since it was formed.

Elsewhere in this programme you will find some of the things that go to make a great club. The one thing we need is steady and substantial support — spectators to watch the team.

The main benefit would be for the players, who always like to play in front of a crowd big enough to create atmosphere and excitement.

A soccer team is like a blacksmith's hammer, and the crowd is its anvil — the team strikes and sparks off the crowd. But they can't strike sparks if there's no anvil.

On the opposite page and page 7 you will find details of two great contests which involve you.

The Sunday Telegraph competition to find a nickname for the team gives us a great send-off under our new name.

City Ford's generous and substantial offer on page 7 maintains that impetus.

Now that you've come to see us, stay with us, and bring your friends.

OUR VISITORS

One of the best things the Philips League has done for Australian soccer is to shift the balance of power in the game away from the two biggest cities and spread it more evenly over the nation.

Adelaide's two clubs in the PSL have shown quite clearly that they can match the clubs in Sydney for organisation, drawing power, financial stability, ground facilities, amenities and — most important of all — playing skill and success.

Adelaide City has been a particularly welcome member of the Philips League because the team plays open, skilful, attacking soccer — the sort of game we like to play and watch.

Now, under its new manager-coach, Rale Rasic, Adelaide City promises to be an even greater playing force.

Players like Peter Marshall — already a South Australian State goalkeeper — John Perin and the Nyskohus brothers, Bugsy and John — all three Australian internationals — John Becis and Brian Northcote, form the core around which a fine side has been built.

We are unlikely to see Adelaide City's other international, Gary Marocchi, playing today, as he is still recovering from close-season operations on a knee and an ankle.

We wish him well and a quick return to the team so that he can defend his place in the Australian team against the challenges of our own John Stevenson and Ian Souness.

Rale Rasic has not gone on a spending spree since he took over at Adelaide City but he has acquired Bobby Russell, the talented defender from South Sydney Croatia — Glenn Dods, who played for New Zealand in the epic 1-1 draw with Australia in the last World Cup elimination matches, and Chris Kent from South Melbourne.

The Adelaide team also includes two experienced and capable Scotsmen, Jimbo Muir and Dixie Deans — both tremendous soccer personalities — and Agenor Muniz, who played so many outstanding games for Hakoah before he went to Adelaide in 1977.

We extend a warm welcome to Adelaide City officials, players and supporters, and hope today's game will be as exciting and as full of good soccer as our previous Philips League matches have been.

CLUB NEWS

Did you know ...

That Mark Trenter was a Welsh Youth and Schoolboy international, and that he played for West Bromwich Albion in the FA Youth Cup final?

* * *

That five of Hakoah's players have Kevin Keegan as their favourite overseas soccer player, three have Kenny Dalglish — who replaced Keegan at Liverpool and two have the Brazilian wizard, Rivelino?

* * *

Ernie Campbell says the biggest influence on his life is Bacardi and Coke.

* * *

Hakoah made a habit of winning grand finals in pairs — 1961 and '62, 1970 and '71, 1973 and '74? Is that a pointer for this season — Eastern Suburbs-Hakoah won it last year. Can Sydney City do it this?

* * *

There are now five Brazilians and five Scotsmen in the first-team squad? The Brazilians are Hilton Silva, Luis De Melo, Marcos Silva, Cornelio Borges and Mozart Fonzeca. The Scotsmen are Eddie Thomson, Henry Mowbray, John Stevenson, Joe Watson and Ian Bruce. But you will also be pleased to know that Todd Clarke, Kevin Mullen, Steve O'Connor, Murray Barnes, Ernie Campbell and Tony Pezzano are all Australian-born.

In the Past

Garry Chaldi, Sydney City's quiet but very effective coach, was an Israeli international player before he became a coach.

Since taking over the coaching at the club, Gerry Chaldi has concentrated on getting the team to play attacking soccer.

He persisted with that policy even when it sometimes seemed that all-out attack was costing the team goals and matches.

His faith was rewarded in the first season in the Philips League, when the club won the inaugural championship.

And it was rewarded again last year when the club won the Top Four grand final and Chaldi was elected National Coach of the Year.

Sydney City's new P.R. Man, Johnny Warren, was probably Australia's best and most famous native-born soccer player.

He grew up in Botany, played first team soccer for Canterbury when he was only 16, was a St George player for many years, was a member of three Australian World Cup squads, including skipper, and became coach, then manager of St George when he finished playing.

He became manager-coach of Canberra City when that club was formed to take part in the Philips League.

His great contribution to Australian soccer was to encourage the development of young players.

The result was that only Canberra City had three players in Australia's World Youth Cup team — Danny Moulis, Mick Milovanovic and Steven Hogg. All are regular members of Canberra's Philips League team and Hogg was voted by critics in the recent World Youth Cup matches in South America as one of four world class players in the Australian squad.

WIN A FORD ... from

CITY FORD

Australia's Number 1 Ford Dealer

CITY FORD has become a sponsor of Sydney City, and as part of that sponsorship, has presented the club with a magnificent Ford Cortina worth $7500.

You can win that car, by rating Sydney City's players at every home game.

At the end of the season, your entries will be placed into a barrel and one form will be drawn from the barrel.

The person whose name is on that form will win the Cortina registered and ready to drive away.

All you have to do is to rate the three best players in the team by writing the numbers 3 to 1 in the boxes against the names of the players you think played best on the day — IN THE ORDER OF YOUR JUDGEMENT OF THEIR PERFORMANCES.

For instance, if you think Tony Pezzano played the best game, put the number 3 in the box against his name, then 2 in the box against the name of your second choice, and 1 against your third choice.

Complete the details at the bottom of this page, giving your name and address, then tear off the coupon and place it in one of the boxes placed around the ground.

You could be the lucky winner of a $7500 Ford Cortina ready for the road —
